

Transportation planning continues

Plans to transition transportation services, in response to federal requirements, are continuing.

Because the federal government has said that all County Boards of Developmental Disabilities are required to have "conflict free case management," plans to transition adult transportation services are being implemented.

By September, 2018, adult transportation services will be provided in Vans by Adult Services staff, rather than school buses. Some of these staff will be former Bus Drivers for the Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities.

This transition plan will not change transportation for early childhood and school programs, because this transportation is not funded with Medicaid dollars.

The transition plan is expected to result in shorter routes and pick-up and drop-off schedules will change. Effective on August 27, 2018, it is expected that all five ARC locations (ARC North, ARC West, ARC East, Bixby, and Northeast) will have the same schedule with staff reporting from 8:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Schedule changes will be reported to the individuals and families.

According to Anthony Hartley, Transportation Director, "all Vans have been ordered. Bus Routes for Early Childhood Education and School programs were bid on May 29-30, 2018 and new GPS routing software has been identified."

Tyler James has been hired to manage ARC Industries Transportation. Effective in January, 2019, all Adult Services staff will transfer from the Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities to ARC Industries.

Superintendent/CEO Jed Morison stated, "Bob Gaston, CEO of ARC Industries, Anthony Hartley, Transportation Director, and their staffs have done outstanding work preparing for this transition. While we didn't ask for or want this change, our staff recognized we are required to do this and have really stepped up to the plate to make the very best of it to maintain stability in services and staffing."

Sally Harrington to retire

Sally Harrington, Assistant Director of the Early Childhood Education Department for the Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities has announced her retirement, effective in July, 2018, after 45 years of service.

According to Rebecca Love, Director of Early Childhood Education, "Sally has been an invaluable resource and support of our overall operations, bringing incredible experience, intuitive knowledge and stability to our operations for over 40 years."

Sally began her service as a Behavior Management Specialist in 1973, and became an Assistant Director of Early Childhood Education under Thealka Lehman in 1979. She has seen our services evolve from a program serving just children with developmental delays to a fully inclusive array of services supported by a number of partnerships.

Sally said she "was proud to work for the Board back in 1973 and 45 years later I'm still proud to work for the Board. I have loved my work and have enjoyed the daily interactions with the children, families, staff and community partners."

About her retirement, Sally looks forward to spending time with her new grandson and she hopes to be active volunteering with different community partners.

According to Jed Morison, "Sally Harrington has been terrific all these years. Her passion to help children and their families is evident in everything she does. She will be missed."

Congratulations to Sally Harrington!

Summer Programs 2018

Editor's Note: In addition to all the regular twelve-month services, the Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities will offer several special programs this summer. Below is a brief summary of just some of the offerings to Franklin County children and adults.

The Early Childhood Education Department will provide a Summer Center program for preschool students. Students will attend half-day sessions from June 18th through July 19th, Monday through Thursday. Close to 200 students will take part in the program. For details, contact Rebecca Love at becky.love@fcbdd.org.

"Out and About" is an opportunity this summer for school-age youth interested in having a summer recreation and community experience. This program will run from June 11th through July 13th. For details, contact Jack Brownley at jack.brownley@fcbdd.org.

The Transition to Work Summer Program is ready to begin its 4th year of service, in partnership with Add (Association for Developmentally Disabled). Over 50 students, representing districts and schools from all over Franklin County will participate. Students will explore a wide variety of employment sites and will complete the Career Discovery Process to help them identify their employment goals and interests. For details, contact Lilian Beck, Transition Coordinator, with any questions at 614-342-5272 or at lilian.Beck@fcbdd.org.

Career Camp is a program that is operated through Columbus City Schools in conjunction with the Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities. It offers classroom training in skills needed for independent living, and provides youth with paid summer employment experiences in community jobs. This program is designed for students ready to graduate from school who are motivated to pursue competitive employment in the community. For details, contact Jack Brownley at jack.brownley@fcbdd.org.

PIECE which stands for Pre-vocational Integrated, Education and Campus Experience is a project supported by FCBDD and operated in collaboration with The Ohio State University Nisonger Center. It is a six-week (June 25th through August 3rd) OSU campus based internship and skills education experience for Adult Services participants and staff. For details, contact Kurt Smith at kurt.smith@fcbdd.org.

FCBDD competes at bus RoadEO

The Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities (FCBDD) was well represented at the Central Ohio School Bus RoadEO.

Four Bus Drivers and close to fifteen other staff attended the event held at Westerville Central High School. Three of the Drivers were first time competitors, which included a 50 question written test and nine different event maneuvers on the bus.

Darla Hodo, Brookelyn Johnson and Jennifer Turner competed for the first time and Albert Bain returned to compete a second time.

Mary Posey, Field Specialist, coordinated FCBDD's involvement in the RoadEO. She was joined by Chuck Dawson, Field Specialist as a judge for the required adaptive equipment event, which was new this year.

In addition to the staff who competed and helped judge, several other staff attended the Saturday event to support the Drivers. Thanks to the FCBDD Transportation Department for representing us so well!

Guardian Training offered at FCBDD

The Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities (FCBDD) will continue to serve as a host site for the Ohio Supreme Court's guardian training.

All guardians of adults are required to initially take a 6-hour training and then complete a 3-hour continuing education requirement annually.

FCBDD will offer the 6-hour training, "Fundamentals of Adult Guardianship" on Thursday, August 23, 2018 at 2879 Johnstown Road. The web broadcast will begin at 8:30 a.m.

For more details or to register for this session, call Angie Franke at 614-342-5972.

'Lion' joins staff and students at West Central

Students at FCBDD's West Central School will have a new four-legged friend roaming the halls.

Thanks to the efforts of teacher Patti Saniel-Banrey, a trained service dog named 'Lion' comes to school every day. Lion is a gentle two year old male Labrador/Golden Retriever, who is trained to work with a facilitator in professional settings. Both Lion and facilitator Patti were trained by Canine Companions.

According to staff at West Central, Lion is friendly, fun, sweet and gentle. He has a schedule to work with students, including participation with the walking group, classroom visits and other therapy and educational sessions in the school or out in the community. Canine Companions provides guidance on learning outcomes, including tips on supporting fine and gross motor skills, sensory integration, cognitive skills, speech and social skills. He has also been known to calm students who are frustrated or upset.

Canine Companions provides Lion free of charge. For more details on Canine Companions, visit www.cci.org.

2018 Candidate Forum on Disability Issues

On Thursday, July 26th from 12:30-4:30 p.m., candidates for Ohio Governor and U.S. Senate will gather to inform the disability community about their positions on disability related issues and policies.

The event will take place at the Ohio State University's Fawcett Event Center at 2400 Olentangy River Road, Columbus.

Alan Johnson, retired Columbus Dispatch Statehouse Reporter will moderate the event. For more information, contact The Center for Disability Empowerment at (614) 575-8055.

Darren Thompson promoted in ECE

Darren Thompson has joined the Early Childhood Education Department's management team of Becky Love, Director, Assistant Directors Teresa Johnson and Laura Mongold and ECE Program Operations Manager Debbie New.

Darren first joined the Early Childhood family in January, 2007. Darren has supported the Early Childhood department in several capacities, including as a Creative Arts Specialist. He received his Fine Arts degree from the Ohio State University. His Early Childhood Education degree is from Ashland University and his master's degree in Special Education is from Ohio Dominican University.

Becky Love stated, "Darren brings to this position his creativity, passion for children, knowledge and support of staff and experience in engaging hundreds of children." He replaces Sally Harrington, who retires in July.

National Disability Voter Registration Week

The American Association of People with Disabilities (AAPD) has launched the REV UP campaign to encourage people with disabilities to vote.

REV UP stands for Register! Educate! Vote! Use your Power! The campaign is coordinating National Disability Voter Registration Week (NDVRW) during the week of July 16-20, 2018 to get people with disabilities registered to vote, educated about this year's election and prepared to cast a ballot in November. NDVRW will be held annually in the third week of July, just before the anniversary of the American's with Disabilities Act (ADA).

The REV UP campaign is a nonpartisan initiative that coordinates with national, state and local disability organizations to increase the political power with the disability community while also engaging candidates and the media on disability issues. To register in Franklin County, residents can go to the Franklin County Board of Elections or any public library.

For more details on the campaign, go to <https://www.aapd.com/rev-up-your-community/>.

West Central student learns new skill

by Kathy Ahlers, West Central School

Congratulations to Stephon Draper, a senior level student at West Central school for learning a new set of skills at Coloract Graphics with owner Molly Jackson.

Stephon has learned to separate t-shirts by size, color and style and is also learning part of the inking process.

Stephon sorts shirts by color and size.

Project Search intern lands full time job at Big Lots

by Katie Boggs, Service Coordination

Congratulations to James Laderer who recently graduated from the Project Search internship program.

As a result of James' hard work and the Project Search internship program, he has been offered a full-time job at the Big Lots distribution center.

James plans to work hard and save money to buy a truck to drive to work. Driving a forklift at the distribution center is a career dream for James, and in time he will do just that. Congratulations to James and the Big Lots team!
