

Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities

'Helping people to live, learn and work in community'

NewsBits

Project STIR Training

The Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities will co-sponsor a Project STIR training from October 29--31 in Columbus at the Crown Plaza North. Project STIR (Steps Toward Independence and Responsibility) is a training for self-advocates designed to provide individuals with skills to advocate for themselves in positive ways. The training is being coordinated and co-sponsored with the Ohio Self Determination Association (OSDA).

Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities | (614) 475-6440
newsbits@fcbdd.org | www.fcbdd.org
2879 Johnstown Road, Columbus, OH 43219

Copyright © 2017. All Rights Reserved.